

SWISS Airport Lounge, Zurich (Switzerland)

A public spaces project by Vitra, 2017

By their very nature, airports are noisy and bustling environments. Lounges therefore serve as important areas for travellers, where they can relax or work in peace and quiet. In this context, Vitra attaches great importance to creating comfortable lounge furniture that meets the high demands of public spaces. Vitra's intense engagement with the needs of users has also led to the development of innovative products that make it easier to work in airports and other public areas. An example of an airport project where Vitra has fulfilled both sets of requirements is the SWISS Airport Lounge in Zurich.

SWISS International Airlines places a strong emphasis on Switzerland's traditional values, with quality awareness at the top of the list. When designing the new SWISS airport lounges – Senator, Business and First – the aim was to create settings that conveyed these values.

The airline shares the same commitment to the highest standards of product and service quality as Vitra. The SWISS airport lounges are consequently furnished with many Vitra products, adding relaxing comfort to an architectural concept that embodies numerous elements of the airline's corporate identity.
